

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

Sales of New York, Brooklyn and Westchester County Property.

Yesterday was a busy day at the auction marts both of New York and Brooklyn, considerable property being offered for sale and purchased at fair prices. The sale of the Leggett farm, which was announced to be held yesterday at Major, Wilkins & Co., and concerning which much interest was felt, attracted a large attendance, mainly composed, however, of persons curious as to its result rather than purposing to become purchasers. But a portion only of this property was sold at auction—four and one-half acres at $5,100 per acre—after which the balance was withdrawn. Subsequently a portion of the lots were resold, and the remainder of the farm was sold at private sale for $7,000. The property is not to be withdrawn from the market, but will be sold at private sale. In the meantime, in the light of the excitement occasioned by the anticipated sale, other Western proprietors have come into the market, and even now impatience to real estate operations, which is not unlikely to occur quite a lively revival of the season. Below are the particulars of the day's sales:
